The Honorable Brian Schweitzer
Governor
Governor's Office
State Capitol
Helena, MT 59620-0801

Dear Governor Schweitzer:

We are pleased to provide you with this first Annual State Report presented by the President's Council on Service and Civic Participation.

The State Report provides a summary of your state's commitment to the President's Volunteer Service Award Program since its inception in 2004. The Council works in partnership with businesses, nonprofit groups, schools, and other organizations across the country to honor local volunteers with the Award. More than 16,000 organizations across the nation have recognized over 400,000 Americans with this honor.

Citizens of all ages and backgrounds are giving of their time and talents to improve lives and strengthen communities. In 2005, more than 65 million Americans volunteered to help their neighbors and communities through service. The President's Volunteer Service Award is one way we pay tribute to these volunteers.

The Award is issued by the President's Council on Service and Civic Participation on behalf of the President of the United States to recognize the best in American spirit, and to encourage all Americans to improve their communities through volunteer service. The Award is given to individuals, families, and groups that have demonstrated outstanding volunteer service and civic participation over the course of a 12-month period.

Today, we challenge you to help advance this national volunteer recognition movement and celebrate the volunteer contributions of your residents especially during National Volunteer Week. I hope your office will join us in honoring your state's most valuable assets – volunteers.

Sincerely,

Kari Dunn
Executive Director

Award recipient in your state:

Molly Mangold (Billings, MT)

Certified by: St. Vincent Healthcare

Eighty-six year old Molly Mangold of Billings personifies the expression “good things come in small packages.” For the last 22 years, Molly has volunteered as a Foster Grandparent at Ponderosa Elementary in Billings where she has influenced the lives of hundreds of at-risk children. Molly, originally from England, married an American G.I. after World War II and in 1946 left her family for a new life in the United States. Molly’s husband passed away in 1984 and though it would be easy to sit at home and grieve, Molly’s independent spirit “kicked in” and in her words she decided “to get off my duff and do something. I had enough of feeling gloomy and needed to live life on my own.” Molly has served more than 16,000 hours during her 22 years and has seen many changes at the school. The one constant, however, is the feeling she gets when she’s able to help the children. When asked what she likes best about volunteering, Molly says, “Getting those big hugs from the kids. How lucky can you be?”

How you can use the President’s Volunteer Service Award in your state:

- On your state’s website, promote your state’s President’s Volunteer Service Award winners, and include a link and banner for the President’s Volunteer Service Award.
- Issue a press release highlighting outstanding volunteers and encouraging others to volunteer and aspire to receive the President’s Volunteer Service Award. For a sample press release, please visit www.pointsoflight.org/programs/seasons/nvw/tools.cfm
- Challenge local and state governmental offices to register as Certifying Organizations for the President’s Volunteer Service Award and issue 25 Awards by 2007 National Volunteer Week
- Encourage organizations (e.g., nonprofits and businesses) to sign up as Award partner organizations by distributing a special invitation during National Volunteer Week
- Whether or not you have a governor’s volunteer awards program, consider partnering with us to deliver a statewide volunteer recognition program modeled after the President’s Volunteer Service Award. For an example of a state’s volunteer award program, please visit <http://www.PresidentialServiceAwards.gov/S/California/>
- Register your state as a Certifying Organization and start recognizing your volunteers with this Presidential recognition. For more details, please contact Tomme Beevas at 202-729-8018 or TBeevas@PointsofLight.org.

About the President’s Council on Service and Civic Participation:

President George W. Bush established USA Freedom Corps in January of 2002, and he called on all Americans to serve a cause greater than themselves. One year later, he created the President’s Council on Service and Civic Participation to help recognize the contributions of America’s volunteers. The Council strives to promote and recognize outstanding volunteer service and raise awareness of the many ways in which Americans can help meet the needs of individuals within their communities and around the world. The Council brings together leaders from business, entertainment, sports, education, government, nonprofits, and the media, each of whom has demonstrated a commitment to service and volunteering in his or her own life. For more information about the President’s Council and its members, please visit www.volunteer.gov.
